The BayScape Garden at Eastern Neck NWR needs your help!

The Eastern Neck National Wildlife Refuge Garden Club is busy at work in the BayScape Garden and needs volunteer help. This is a great opportunity to get outside and learn from Master Gardeners about how a butterfly garden works. When warmer months arrive, the garden is a spectacular wildlife viewing location: an incredible diversity of butterflies and other types of wildlife can be seen at this garden each summer!

The garden is also a demonstration garden in the Master Gardener's program. All volunteers are invited to help with the garden, and work hours will count toward Refuge Volunteer hours as well as Master Gardener program hours.

Volunteer help with the garden is needed on any day of the week that you can come, for any amount of time that you have available to volunteer, from now through fall.

If you have any questions, please contact refuge Visitor Services Specialist Colby Hawkinson at 410-639-7056 or colby_hawkinson@fws.gov
